

1999-2004 Jeep Grand Cherokee Headlamp Unit Replacement

This is a straight forward task and will only take a short time.

Written By: oldturkey03

INTRODUCTION

This guide is to remove the headlamp. Left and right remove identical. This will have to be done to either change a light bulb or to remove the complete headlamp for exchange.

TOOLS:

- 6mm socket (1)
-

Step 1 — Headlamp Unit

- Here is the Jeep GC. Removal of the headlamp is identical for both sides.
- By opening the hood and looking straight down on the headlamp assembly, the 6mm hex head jack screw can be seen.
- Use a 6mm socket and nut driver to remove the jack screw. 1/4 socket will not fit 9/32 does, but it is a bit sloppy

Step 2

- Remove the long jack screw.
- Grasp upper inboard and lower outboard corners of headlamp and forcefully pull headlamp outward.
- Remove all bulb sockets from headlamp module. Separate headlamp from vehicle.

To reassemble your device, follow these instructions in reverse order.

